Description :

Prsentation de l'diteurThe murder of a prostitute named Ada McKinley in a bedroom on decrepit Pentecost Alley should occasion no stir in Victorias great metropolis, but under the victims body, the police find a Hellfire Club badge inscribed with the name Finlay Fitzjamesa name that instantly draws Superintendent Thomas Pitt into the case. Finlays fatherimmensely wealthy, powerful, and dangerousrefuses to consider the possibility that his son has been in Ada McKinleys bed. The implication is clear: Pitt is to arrest someone other than Finlay Fitzjames for Adas demise. But Thomas Pitt is not a man to be intimidated, and with the help of his quick-witted wife, Charlotte, he stubbornly pursues his investigation one that twists and turns like Londons own ancient streets. Revue de presse Vibrant . . . alluring . . . It is [Perrys] fine-bladed outrage that draws the blood in this series. The New York Times Book Difficult to put down . . . tricky and beautifully paced. The Virginian-Pilot Stands as one of her most intricately constructed plots . . . Perry packs a triple wallop into the final pages, one climax following another. Chicago Sun-Times Unfolds in a masterly fashion, sure to satisfy devotees of the classic puzzle. Houston Chronicle Beautifully crafted, filled with the gaslit atmosphere of a bygone world. Cosmopolitan Presentation de l'diteur The murder of a prostitute named Ada McKinley in a bedroom on decrepit Pentecost Alley should occasion no stir in Victorias great metropolis, but under the victims body, the police find a Hellfire Club badge inscribed with the name Finlay Fitzjames a name that instantly draws Superintendent Thomas Pitt into the case.
